Translation of a Letter from the illustrious PAOLI, to his Friend in London.

SIR,

YOU are, without Doubt, acquainted with my true Sentiments on the Situation of our Affairs. My Character has not been that of a Hero of Romance, a Quixote or an Amadis. There is nothing more real than the Object I purſue; but if, inſtead of a real Object, I purſue a Chimera, I am deceived indeed; yet my Error ſhall never cauſe me to deſert the Common Cauſe. What are, for the moſt Part, the Objects of our Purſuits, but dazzling Chimeras, which have no other Exiſtence than that which our lively and deceived Imagination lends them? Upon this Principle I will purſue my firſt Plan; and if that Liberty which I ſeek, is not to be found any where, I ſhall account him my Enemy, that will endeavour to remove the Deluſion from my Sight. Let me enjoy this Dream, which to me ſeems ſo much like Truth.

The Offers that have been made me are both injurious to me, and repugnant to that Spirit of Liberty which circulates with my Blood in my Veins, and which ſhall circulate with it to the laſt Drop. You little know the Courage of the Corſicans, if you can believe they will ever ſubmit to a foreign Yoke. All the Efforts of Genoa have proved ineffectual againſt their Valour, and Love of Liberty. And ſhall we then ſubmit to another Power that comes to offer us its Chains? The Rocks that ſurround me ſhall melt away, ere I will betray a Cauſe which I hold in common with the loweſt Corſican. No; I never will become the baſe Deſtroyer of my Country, after having been the generous Defender of it. If any Man was capable of endaving me, it would be the Count de Marboeuf; and the King his Maſter could not have choſen a more enchanting Man. But you know, Sir, the Price of Liberty, like Health, is only known when loſt; they are the moſt precious Enjoyments of Life. Let the mean Slaves of their Maſters Wills fawn at their Feet, and renounce the natural Rights of Humanity; as for me, I have learnt to be free; I know how to live ſo, and to die free I would ſacrifice Ten Thouſand Lives, if I had them; I have but One, and that ſhall not ſurvive my Liberty. Be aſſured, Sir, I ſhall ever be immoveable. Gold loſes its Splendour, when offered as the Price of Liberty: Honours are only able to dazzle Fools, if they are not to be obtained but by renouncing the Privileges of human Nature. What does it ſignify to me, that I am able to command a Multitude of Slaves, who ſhall come and humiliate themſelves at my Feet, if, in a Quarter of an Hour afterwards, I am forced in my Turn, to humble myſelf at the Feet of another, one Degree higher than myſelf? If I fall the Victim of Liberty, I ſhall fall nobly, and teach others to ſacrifice themſelves to the Common Cauſe. Our Love of Liberty will ſubſiſt even among the Ruins of our Country; it will be enlivened by Fire, be born again on the Aſhes, and will grow, though in Irons. Of one ſlaughtered Hero will be produced a Thouſand; and, as Tertullian ſaid of the primitive Martyrs of the Church, their Blood will be fruitful, and Heroes will never be wanting in Corſica.

WARSAW, December 31.

THE Day before Yeſterday the mixed Tribunal met again under a Catholic Preſident, and the 3d of next Month they are to treat of the Affairs of the Diſſidents under the Preſidence of one amongſt themſelves. General Weymar, who is to relieve General Soltikow in the Command of the Ruſſian Troops in this City, is already arrived at Riga. As to the Corps of the Army appointed to ſtay in Poland, it will be compoſed of 30,000 Men.

Jan. 11. We are informed from Turkey, that the Chan of the Tartars is to march with his Troops towards the Borders, which ſeparate Ruſſia from Tartary. The Troops which the Grand Viſir is to command, aſſemble near Varna, Gallipoli, and Rodoſto.

As to the Interior Part of Poland, every Thing is quiet; there have been no new Confederacies ſince the Deſtruction of that of Prince Salkowſki in Great Poland. The Confederates of Bar remain till in the Ottoman Territories in the ſame Situation as before, but one of their Parties, formerly commanded by the ſieur Pulawſki, is at Zwaniec, and will not re-enter Turkey.

ROME, Dec. 31. We are under Apprehenſions of a new Diſagreement, as the Neapolitan Troops are reinforced at Orbitello, and Ships with Troops are expected from Spain, with a View of making an Invaſion in the Duchies of Caſtro and Ronciglione.

LONDON.

Jan. 17. Some Diſpatches, ſaid to be received on Wednesday Night at the Ruſſian Ambaſſador's, bring an Account of the Ruſſians having ſurprized a large Body of Tartars, with the great Chaſtiſe, Son of Shah Nadir, and totally defeated them.

It is ſaid that ſeveral Couriers have been ſent lately relative to ſome important News from the Court of Petersburg, in Regard to the hoſtile Proceedings of the Ruſſians for ſeizing this Court, which is ſtrong now requires our Aſſiſtance to ſupport her againſt ſo potent an Adverſary.

In the Bruſſels Gazette of Jan. 9, which arrived this Day, is the following Article; "London, Dec. 30. It is ſaid that Endeavours are uſing to accommodate the Differences between the Miniſtry and Mr. Wilkes, and to put an End to a Conteſt which too much engages the Application of Government at this preſent Conjuncture, when the Affairs of Europe in general, and that of this Kingdom, and its Colonies, in particular, are of ſuch a Nature as to engage their utmoſt Attention."

The Perſon principally employed to hire a Mob on a certain Occaſion, has, we are told, diſappeared ſome Time.

Jan. 19. We hear that a Plan for eſtabliſhing a National Militia in Scotland, is now in Contemplation, and it is thought will be carried into ſpeedy Execution, it being now more neceſſary on Account of the Number of regular Forces ſent to America.

According to Letters, which are dated from Leghorn, we have received Advice, that in the late Action between the French and Corſicans, at the Surprize of Oletta, the former had 800 Men killed or wounded, beſides 250 made Priſoners, among whom are Two Staff Officers. The Attack laſted for Four Hours, with a very briſk Fire on both Sides.

The ſame Letters ſay, that a Detachment of French Dragoons had fallen into an Ambuſcade, and have been entirely diſperſed by the Corſicans.

The King of Poland, in his Private Hours with Mr. Wroughton, often burſt into Tears, ſaying, "Who would wiſh to be a King? I little thought when I was in your Country of England, that Crowns were made of Thorns."

We hear that a certain Gentleman made over his Eſtates before he went Abroad.

It is reported that another Gentleman is obliged to abſcond, on Account of being unable to anſwer the Demands on him reſpecting a late Election.

Among the Number of grand Dreſſes which appeared at Court Yeſterday, thoſe of the Dutcheſſes of Ancaſter, Beaufort, and Buccleugh, and that of the Counteſs of Waldegrave, were the moſt rich and elegant, and all of Engliſh Manufacture.

The laſt Letters from Altena are filled with Accounts of the great Rejoicings made there on the 4th inſt. occaſioned by his Daniſh Majeſty's Arrival in his own Dominions. All the Houſes were illuminated, and a grand emblematical Firework, inſcribed Optimo Regi, was played off, which was followed by a grand Maſquerade Ball.

It is ſaid, that by the Death of the late Mrs Mead, a Fortune of near 100,000l. devolves to the Wife and Daughter of John Wilkes, Eſq;

The Steward of one great Man, and Agent of another, have both diſappeared, on Account of Orders being given for taking them into Cuſtody, for having hired ſome of the Fellows concerned in the Brentford Riot.

Jan. 21. The firſt Time the King of Sweden repaired to the Senate, after his late Abdication, he cauſed the following Diſtatum to be read there:

"I appear again in this Place, penetrated with the moſt lively Acknowledgment at its having pleaſed the Divine Providence, who directs all Things, that I ſhould reſume the Government of my Kingdom, and with the more Satisfaction, as the Convocation of the States give me Hopes of being able to relieve our faithful Subjects from their Miſery. I will not undertake to anſwer what the Senators have alledged againſt my Reſolution, ſince it is all buried in Oblivion by the Convocation of the States. I ſhall demonſtrate to the States the Utility and the Neceſſity of my Reſolution, for the Maintenance of the Liberty and Juſtice of the Nation. My Conſcience does not in the leaſt reproach me in all this; what has lately happened perhaps will be alone ſufficient to evince the Juſtice of my Deſigns. I am, moreover, fully perſuaded, that all that I have done will be approved, not only at preſent, but in future. (Signed) ADOLPHUS FREDERICK."

Jan. 24. The following French Troops, 37 Battalions, and 24 Squadrons of Horſe, 10 Companies of Artillery, with 64 Pieces of Braſs Cannon, are to embark from France the firſt Week in March, for Genoa, where 6 Battalions are to remain in Garriſon; 2 Battalions at the Fort of Gavi, and the remainder to encamp in the Month of May on the Frontiers of the Genoeſe Territories, not far from Alexandria.

The French King has raiſed Twenty Millions of Livres, at Ten per Cent. This would ſeem as if that Kingdom was little able to begin Hoſtilities with any Power, particularly Great-Britain.

A certain Gentleman has lately received Two very extraordinary Letters from Perſons, Struck with Remorſe for ſome paſt Tranſactions relative to his Affairs, written by a very extraordinary Perſon.

A private Interview with a certain Gentleman, it is reported, was ſollicited by an eminent ———, but declined with a polite Compliment, "that a friendly Viſit would be deemed a Favour. Inſtead of which, ſome Perſons were ſent, and Terms propoſed, which being refuſed, ſome Threats were uſed. The Anſwer to which was, "I am neither to be intimidated nor wheedled; but if Aſſaſſination is Bravo, ſix others will attend the Conſultation, for I ſhall make known ſuch Attempts."

Yeſterday at a General Court of Proprietors of the Eaſt-India Company at Merchant Taylors-Hall, the Chairman read to the Proprietors the written Meſſage which the Directors had received from the Lords of the Treaſury, in Conſequence of their having tranſmitted to that Board the Propoſitions hallotted for on Monday laſt: The Minute of the Treaſury is clearly in the following Words:

"My Lords can ſee no Reaſon to alter their former Opinion, with regard to the Propoſitions that were communicated to them from the Court of Directors; therefore however willing they might have been to have concurred with the Company in any reaſonable Qualification of any of the Articles, which are mentioned in the Minutes of the Board of the 15th Day of December laſt, as proper to be made Part of both Agreement, in which Light they conſider the Propoſition, that whenever the Company's Dividends ſhall be reduced to Six per Cent. the Payment to the Public ſhall be diſcontinued; yet they cannot give the Court of Directors any Encouragement to expect, that this Board will think themſelves at Liberty to recommend it to Parliament to accept of any ſuch Propoſal, as ſhall leave any of thoſe Articles wholly unprovided for."

A Letter from Venice, dated Jan. 4, ſays, "The Subjects of Ruſſia, ſettled in the States of the Grand Signior, are retiring with their Effects into Countries the neareſt to their late Reſidence, for fear of ſharing the Fate of the Sieur Obreſcow, the Reſident Miniſter from the Court of Peterſburgh at Conſtantinople."

They write from Genoa, that the French General in Corſica has publiſhed an Amneſty for all ſuch Deſerters of that Nation as ſhall join their Corps by the 25th of March next.

Jan. 28. We are told that Lord Granby, Commander in Chief of his Majeſty's Land Forces, intends ſpeedily to lay before Parliament, the diſtreſſed Situation of the Subaltern Officers of the Army, whoſe preſent Situation, undoubtedly claims the Attention of the Legiſlature, and from whom it is thought they will find a timely Redreſs.

Laſt Night a Pariſh Beadle endeavouring to drive away ſome of the Common Proſtitutes from Fleet-Street, one of them being much in Liquor ſnapped her Fingers at him, and told him they were in Alderman Wilkes's Ward, and would not ſtir without an Order from his Aldermanſhip's own Hand.

It is reported, that Mr. Alderman Wilkes is going into the Brewery Buſineſs, having agreed for a large Brewhouſe at the Weſt End of the Town, which is to be ſtocked with a large Quantity of excellent Porter, againſt the Time of his Releaſement, which is to be ſold to the Publicans ſo cheap, as to enable them to ſell Wilkes's Beer at 3d. per Quart.

We are aſſured, that in Caſe any Sentence of Exile ſhould ever be paſſed upon a certain popular Character, he intends to end his Days in America.

We are confidently aſſured, that ſeveral French Agents have lately been tampering with a Number of our Ship Builders, and offered them high Terms to embark for France, where they are at preſent much wanted.

Jan. 31. Yeſterday Morning a private Maſs-Houſe in Lawler's-Court, Oxford-Road, where a Number of Papiſts were aſſembled at their Devotion, was ſuppreſſed by the Pariſh Officers. The officiating Prieſt was taken into Cuſtody, as he was under a Recognizance of 1000l. not to perform his Function.

On Friday Night laſt the 131 following Toaſts were drank by the Friends of Mr. Wilkes.

ANNAPOLIS, April 20.

Lately died at his Houfe, in Chefter-Town, Kent County, greatly regretted, Dr. WILLIAM MURRAY. He was a Gentleman of ſtrict Integrity, an affectionate Huſband, tender Parent, kind Maſter, and agreeable Companion.

Laſt Night, the Smoke-Houſe of Dr. GEORGE STEUART, of this City, was broke open, and ſeveral Gammons ſtolen thereout. The Perſons concerned, 'tis ſuppoſed, were alarmed by ſome Means or other, as they left ſeveral Pieces of Bacon at the Door.—Several Robberies of this kind, have been attempted within theſe few Weeks.—We wou'd here caution the Inhabitants to be very careful of the Contents of their Smoke-Houſes, as the Markets at this Seaſon, are very indifferent.

By inſerting the following Hints in your Paper of next Thurſday, you will particularly oblige your conſtant Reader,

CLARINDA.

YOU will perhaps be ſurpriſed, that a Female ſhould attempt to reform thoſe whom ſome of the other Sex have attempted, but without Succeſs——I muſt not draw a Sword, and the TONGUE, our chief Weapon, will not, in this Caſe, work a Reformation——I will therefore draw my Pen.

I live ſome Miles from Annapolis, but the Delight I take in ſeeing a Play, has drawn me frequently to your Theatre——The Money I expend in that Way juſtly entitles me to ſome Amuſement, and when I am diſguſted, I think I have a Right to complain, it being the Duty of every Actor to exert his utmoſt Abilities to render his Performance agreeable to the Audience. I never was in England—nor did I ever ſee a Play anywhere but in Annapolis, conſequently my Judgement is formed by ſuch Conceptions as Nature has pointed out. And, before I mention thoſe Things that have ſhock'd me, I will here acknowledge the great Pleaſure I felt in Mrs. Oſborne's Performance of JULIET—Her feeling Manner of acting, in my Opinion, made Amends for a Number of Incidents that were exceptionable, during the Repreſentation of the Play——I ſtaid in Town to go to the CONSTANT COUPLE——and, tho' this Lady charmed me by her acting, I own ſhe ſtruck my Admiration ſtill more, to find that it was in the Power of the ſame Woman, to expreſs the delicate Senſibility of a JULIET—and the Levity of a Sir HARRY WILDAIR—but all her Merit,——had it been Ten Times greater, could not diveſt me of Reſentment, when I obſerved a Violation of all Decorum, committed by one of the Actors.

I have been informed, that in England, where Actors are more encouraged and careſſed, than in any known Part of the World——that if they take a Liberty of expreſſing, by Voice, or Geſture, their Reſentment of being hiſſed, whether deſervedly, or not——ſuch an Actor may think himſelf happy, if he is ſuffered to go on, upon making very great Conceſſions——and, ſhall an Actor, on this Stage, (encouraged as it has been) inſolently dare to tell an Audience, not to applaud——What an Inſult upon their Underſtanding!—I wiſhed myſelf, like Mrs. Oſborne, in Breeches, to have made his Chaſtiſement, a real one——What this Gentleman can ſay for himſelf, I am at a Loſs to ſurmiſe——To ſay he was hurt, by a little Stick-Diſcipline, is as ridiculous as it is fallacious——I have been told this Gentleman has not denied, when he was publicly accuſed of it, that he did not always act as well as he could——What did this imply? Or, what did his Behaviour, on Saturday, imply? but the moſt ſovereign Contempt for your City—Where, if I am rightly informed, the Manager has been heard to ſay, he has met with the greateſt Encouragement and Indulgence.

I cannot help mentioning a Thing that muſt be always very diſagreeable to a ſenſible Audience, and which, the Manager, I think, might reform, in ſome Degree——It is the barefaced, illiberal, and very often indecent Inſertions of ſome of his Actors, that play the low Parts in Comedy, or Farce, which is generally ſubſtituted for what they have either forgot, or perhaps, which is more likely, never peruſed——To be imperfect, is ſo great a Fault, that the putting in their Ribaldry is hardly a greater.

I am afraid the Gentleman, who amuſed himſelf with playing HAMLET, forgot to tell the Clowns, to ſpeak no more than were ſet down for them; or, if he did tell them, it was only in a Whiſper.

I would have theſe very witty—ſprightly Gentlemen, when they perſonate Clowns, or Fools, know, that ſince the immortal Shakeſpears, and Ben Johnſon, we have hardly had an Author, that has preſumed to draw ſuch Characters——conſcious that it requires the moſt conſummate Knowledge of human Nature, to put proper Words in their Mouths——And all the Moderns that have attempted it, if I recollect right, have generally failed——Then may we not naturally conclude, that it has been thought, by ſenſible Men, a difficult Undertaking, to draw ſuch Characters as they ought to be; and, that it requires, at leaſt, no common Share of Underſtanding, to play the FOOL WELL.

THE ſubſcriber, being confin'd in Anne-Arundel County Jail, hereby informs his Creditors, that he intends to apply to the next General Aſſembly for Relief. (44) JOHN ALLEN.

PROPOSALS

For Printing by SUBSCRIPTION,

THE

LETTERS.

IN ONE VOLUME.

They will be printed on a new TYPE, and good PAPER.

 The Price to Subſcribers will be Two SHILLINGS and SIX-PENCE, to be paid on the Delivery of them, which ſhall be as ſoon as they can poſſibly be finiſhed.

It is hoped due Encouragement will be given to this Work, that the juſt and generous Principles of Liberty, which theſe LETTERS contain, may be univerſally infuſed into the Peoples Minds; and thereby ourſelves and our Poſterity ſecured in the Poſſeſſion of thoſe invaluable Rights which NATURE, REASON, and the CONSTITUTION of our COUNTRY, have given us.

Such Gentlemen as incline to ſubſcribe, are deſired to tranſmit their Names immediately to Mr. William Green, at the Printing-Office, or the Maryland Coffee-Houſe, where the Pamphlets ſhall be lodged for the Subſcribers.

To the PUBLIC.

IT may perhaps ſeem ſtrange to ſlight Conſideration, that theſe LETTERS, which have already paſſed through all America, ſhould now a Second Time be produced before the Public in their preſent Form. But a little further Reflection will ſhew the UTILITY of this WORK. The ſacred Cauſe of Liberty is of too great Conſequence, and the Neceſſity of Freedom for the Security of human Happineſs too obvious, not to render every Precaution wiſe, that tends to prevent the Introduction of Slavery. Notwithſtanding therefore, theſe Letters have been already publiſhed, yet here, they have been ſeen only in the Gazette, which, from the Uncertainty of their Diſperſion, and the Length of Time paſſing between the Reception of News-Papers in the Country, may probably have prevented much of the Benefit to be derived from a Collective, uninterrupted View of the manly Reaſoning, the timely Information, and the true conſtitutional Principles of Liberty, with which theſe Letters every where abound. Whoever conſiders again that the Nature of Men in Authority is inclined rather to commit two Errors than to retract one *, will not be ſurpriſed to ſee the Stamp-Act followed by a Bill of Right, declaring the Power of Parliament to bind us in all Caſes whatſoever; and this Act followed again by another, impoſing a Duty on Paper, Paint, Glaſs, &c. imported into theſe Colonies. But however unbounded may be the Wiſh of Power to extend itſelf, however unwilling it may be to acknowledge Miſtakes, 'tis ſurely the Duty of every wiſe and worthy American, who at once wiſhes the Proſperity of the Mother Country and the Colonies, to point out all Invaſions of the Public Liberty, and to ſhew the proper Methods of obtaining Redreſs. This has been done by the Authors of the following LETTERS with a Force and Spirit becoming Freemen, Engliſh Freemen, contending for our juſt and legal Poſſeſſion of Property and Freedom. A Poſſeſſion that has its Foundation on the cleareſt Principles of the Law of Nature, the moſt evident Declarations of the Engliſh Conſtitution, the plaineſt Contract made between the Crown and our Forefathers, and all theſe ſealed and ſanctified by the Uſage of near two Hundred Years. American Rights thus reſting on the beſt and ſtrongeſt Ground, it behoves all her Inhabitants with united Heads, Hearts, and Hands, to guard the ſacred Depoſit committed by their Fathers to their Care, as well to bleſs Poſterity as to ſecure the Happineſs of the preſent Generation. In vain 'tis for ſome few (and very few I hope they are) who, governed either by baſe Principles of Fear, or led by vile Hopes of Gain, the Reward of proſtituted Virtue, to ſay, "your Rights are indeed invaded, but Great-Britain is too ſtrong. What can we do againſt ſuperior Strength?" Let theſe evil deſigning Men remember what the higheſt Authority has told us, "that the Race is not always to the ſwift, nor the Battle to the ſtrong." And if Inſpiration needed to receive Aſſiſtance from Genius, Shakeſpeare ſays, "Thrice is he armed that has his Quarrel juſt, and he but naked, tho' lock'd up in Steel, whoſe Conſcience, with Injuſtice, is oppreſſed." Hiſtory alſo informs us, that Xerxes with his armed Millions could not accompliſh his Purpoſe of reducing to Slavery the much weaker but free States of Greece. Three Hundred brave Men at Thermophylæ, contending for Liberty, deſtroyed Twenty Thouſand who attempted its Ruin. In later Times we ſee the States of Holland free, and the generous Corſicans likely to be ſo, although the far greater Powers of Spain, Germany, and France, have at different Periods combined to enſlave theſe noble Nations.

The Truth is, that the great Author of Nature has created nothing in vain, and having with the Life of Man joined Liberty, the virtuous Enjoyment and free Poſſeſſion of Property honeſtly gained, has undoubtedly furniſhed all Nations with the Means of defending their natural Rights, if they have but Wiſdom and Fortitude to make the proper Uſe of ſuch Means. In this Inſtance we find ourſelves Three Thouſand Miles removed from Great-Britain, we poſſeſs a Country abounding with Woods in all Parts, and in many with Mountains of difficult and dangerous Acceſs. The Eaſe with which the ſtaple Colonies could put an entire Stop to the Exportation of their Commodities, and the peaceable but vital Injury that this would convey to thoſe who might incline on oppreſſing them, are Truths ſo plain as to require no further Animadverſion. Perhaps ſeaſons ſet in. The Nature of the Climate, the Soil, and its various Produce, point out the Eaſe and Extent with which Manufactures may be conducted here. Theſe Things are mentioned as in Proof of what is above aſſerted, that the bountiful Author of Nature has furniſhed his Creatures with the Means of ſecuring their groſſeſt Rights, and that the Event depends much upon their own wiſe and brave Reſolutions.

tions. A benevolent Mind [illegible] that either Ambition, Avarice, or ill placed Reſentment, ſhould ever be ſo exerciſed as to force Men to the Inveſtigation of thoſe Methods by which they may be ſaved from the Operation of ſuch Paſſions. For certain it is, that theſe Paſſions are more hoſtile to human Nature than well ordered Government is more valuable than Liberty. How ignominious muſt his Conduct be who turns the firſt into Contempt, and the latter into Slavery? But whatever may be Opinion, or the Deſign of a rapacious ill-adviſed Miniſter, the Americans have in their View this happy Proſpect; that the People of Great-Britain are generous and brave, they know the Value of Liberty, becauſe they have purchaſed that Knowledge with much of their Blood; and therefore they cannot but eſteem as their Children for venerating the good old Cauſe which they themſelves have eſpouſed for in many a well-fought Field. It is really wonderful that ſuch an unhappy Diſpute between Great-Britain and her Colonies ſhould ever have exiſted, when a Moment's Retroſpection ſhews the Mother Country for near Two Centuries exerciſing legiſlative Authority here without Complaint, while ſhe abſtained from that ſingle deſpotic Claim of taking our Money from us without the Conſent of our Repreſentatives. The Exerciſe of which Claim, would indeed reduce America to a State of Slavery, more deplorable and more ignominious than has ever yet been known in the World. But to what Purpoſe this ſhould be deſired, is ſtill more amazing, when Britain from her excluſive Trade to theſe Colonies, and from the Manner in which ſhe tied up our manufacturing Hands, not only received the entire Produce of the Lands and Labour of theſe Countries, but has beſides involved the People here in a heavy Debt, which Agriculture, without Arts, and a Trade ſo confined, will probably never pay. Mr. Grenville ſeems had the Honour of deviſing this new Syſtem of American Policy.

"'Til one ſhall riſe

Will arrogate Dominion undeſerved
Over his Brethren, and quite diſpoſſeſs
Concord and the Law of Nature from the Earth.

With War and hoſtile Snare ſuch as refuſe
Subjection to his Empire tyrannous.
—————— O execrable Son! ſo to aſpire
Above his Brethren, to himſelf aſſuming
Authority uſurped, from God not given:
He gave us only over Beaſt, Fiſh, Fowl,
Dominion abſolute; that Right we hold
By his Donation; but Man over Men
